

SAFE USE AND HANDLING

The safe use and handling of agrochemical products requires permanent monitoring and accompaniment of both our sales force, distribution channel and the farmers who use our products in the field, therefore, this is a main focus of our program Product Management at UPL.

Through training programs led by the CUIDAGRO Program of the Procultivos chamber of ANDI, we teach farmers, applicators, agronomists, field technicians and our distribution channel how to use our products effectively and efficiently to increase yield and the quality of its harvested products, as well as the safe use and handling, with respect to human health and the environment.

During 2019 CUIDAGRO trained 7,609 farmers in the safe use of our products, mainly through field days with farmers, technicians and professionals where main topics such as safe handling, Basic concepts of risk assessment, Basic concepts in toxicology and Good practices in beekeeping.
